

Registration conditions for BMW BERLIN-MARATHON 2026

General information

- BMW receives entry codes and is allowed to forward them.
- Important: Participation in BMW BERLIN-MARATHON needs good preparation. Please make sure that entry codes will only be given to experienced runners from July on and raffles should not take place from July on.

Registration

- Every participant has to register himself online and costs 205 EUR. The partner/sponsor does not have an overview of the participants.
- All participants who have registered by the registration deadline are immediately bindingly registered (regardless of the time). Should the participant not be able to start, the entry expires. Proportionate refunds of the additional services can be requested directly by the participant via the contact form: <https://www.bmw-berlin-marathon.com/en/info-and-service/contact/>
- Necessary data of the participants: Name, first name, address, date of birth, gender, nationality, e-mail address, discipline, best or target time, payment method and data. Emergency contacts, club, products can be voluntarily made. If a specific team name is desired, please enter it online in the line CLUB / TEAM.
- Registrations must be made until May 31, 2026, after which the online registration option will be switched off and no further registrations will be accepted. Unused access codes will expire ☒ Late registrations and rewrites are not possible.

Timekeeping

- Timekeeping will be done exclusively with the timing system provided by the event. The costs for timekeeping are included in the general costs of the event.

Important information on registration:

The prerequisite for registration is a user account in our participant community (<https://login.scc-events.com/s/login>). If you have already created such a user account after June 2020, login using your email address as your user name and the password you created.

If you have already created a user account with us in previous years (before June 2020), this data is NOT valid anymore. Please create a new account at <https://login.scc-events.com/login> by clicking on the green "Register" box.

After entering the required data, complete the account registration with a verification. For this you will receive an email with a confirmation link.

Your user account is now verified and you can start the registration for the race.

As soon as you have logged into your user account, you will find the field "Access code" on the start page above the event selection. Please enter your access code there. You will be taken directly to the registration. Please make sure that the access code does not contain any spaces and that it is entered in the same way as we sent it to you.

We are looking forward to your registration!
